A round-up of successes and events

Berkshire mother is named Barclays business winner

Wokingham mother and entrepreneur Paula Wynne, who runs a website that specialises in remote working and home working business opportunities for professionals, has been named one of the UK's top businesses in the 2009 Barclays Trading Places Awards. The national award honours men and women who are turning their lives around by choosing to start up a business. Paula Wynne, who is well-known to many readers, overcame numerous hardships, all in a very short space of time, to start up her own business, Remote Employment, with her partner Ken Sheridan.

The firm now has a substantial client database, matching freelancers and home workers to employers via their website. Barclays Marketing Director for Local Business, John Davis, a judge on the panel, said: "The calibre of this year's entries is outstanding and we hope that with this recognition, Remote Employment will continue on the road to success."
